Beckwith Film Project

The Ontario Arts Council has lent a helping hand to our film project about Wendell Beckwith, the inventor and scientist, who ended up on Best Island, Whitewater Lake in the 1960s and 1970s. Director Jim Hyder received an OAC grant in support of the project. Work began on the film this summer with more to follow. Thanks are also due to the project's co-sponsors: Environment North, Wilderness North, LU Outdoor Recreation Program, and Wabakimi Park.

Albert's Grand Reopening!

On Sunday, September 23rd, children gathered to celebrate the grand reopening of our Albertosaurus exhibit with crafts, games, tours, a scavenger hunt, and good food. If you haven't seen the new exhibit be sure to drop by the Museum.

Behind the Lens

The Museum has installed an exhibit on the third floor of the Ryan Building at Lakehead University. It focuses on a selection of early photographers at the Lakehead, with an emphasis on their photos and the window they provide to early life in the region. Included are J.F. Cooke, Jennie Leach, the first female professional photographer in the area, Fryer's Studio, Fred Creech, and George Ryerson Evans. A variety of photographic equipment is also displayed to emphasize the way camera technology was changing.

CLASSIC CAMARO RAFFLE

Jane Delski of Thunder Bay was the lucky winner of this lovely 1969 Camaro. Her ticket (#00519) was pulled from the drum on Sept. 4th. Thanks to all who supported us by buying tickets.

Stay tuned for next year's raffle. Tickets will be available for a 1970 Dodge Challenger R/T early in the new year. The car will be out and about in mid-April with a draw slated for July.

Gifts of the North (opening Nov. 6)

Gifts of the North is an exciting new exhibit of original art by local artist Janet MacDonald-Hannam.

Janet's figurines were inspired by the regional beauty of Northwestern Ontario. Each figure represents a facet of the natural world in the region, often touching on the area's history, brought to life as an anthropomorphic creation. The exhibit will be accompanied by photography by Meghan Hannam-Arpin that places each figure in a natural setting.

Ekphrastic

Ekphrastic is a travelling exhibit created by the members of the Fibre Arts Network from across Western Canada. Normally, poetry is written in response to art. In this case, the art of four fabric artists interprets the work of twelve Canadian poets. The fibre art works are gathered together by poem so that viewers can see how each artist interpreted the written words. Ekphrastic runs until November 30.
